THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

NORTHAM, May 15.

The weather continues favourable for farming operations. The young corn is looking grand.

A large number of men are leaving daily for the goldfields.

The new post office is completed, and reflects the highest credit on Messrs. Byatt and Cady, the contractors. The question now is, when will it be occupied?

An old and highly respected resident, Mr. William Smith, died on Saturday.
