NORTHAM, November 20.

An exciting contest is taking place here to-day in connection with the Municipal elections. The result will be declared at 6 o'clock.

Yesterday the first public service was held at Seabrook by the Rev. H. Faull. A large number of the settlers attended. Feeling reference was made by the preacher to the death of Bishop Parry.

The Anglican Church here was also largely attended, and both morning and evening very impressive services were conducted by the Rev. E. Clairs.

A baker named Letobford was accidentally killed to-day. His horse bolted on seeing the train. The deceased was an industrious, pushing man. Much sympathy is expressed for his wife.
